

SKAU REIPURTH

Mette Vestergaard Huss

Attorney of the Danish High Courts, Partner

Mette Vestergaard Huss specialises in data protection, IP law and tech.

The topics are plentiful but when it comes to rights Mette Vestergaard Huss is particularly experienced in SaaS, PaaS, and IT operation and development agreements, and she has specialist knowledge of the sales and production conditions of the cosmetics, pharmaceuticals and plastics industries. As a supplement to the day-to-day advice to clients, Mette has taught marketing law and IP law at CBS for more than 10 years.

In respect of GDPR Mette advises on general compliance. Mette also acts as DPO and regular advisor to a number of clients and she manages a large number of whistleblower hotlines.

Mette has particularly great insight into the challenges faced by associations, and as a result she assists such associations as a trusted advisor. It may be an appointed management, articles of association, GDPR, directorships, etc.

Mette's advisory approach to all matters is pragmatic, commercial and solution-oriented. She combines this approach with a high degree of structure, and she implements projects in the clients' organisations based on the approach that good management ensures the best solution in all contexts.

In addition to her daily work as an attorney, Mette is also an appointed judge of the Danish Court of Impeachment.

Mette speaks English and the Scandinavian languages.
